Dear Parent/Carer,

April 2018

So the final term is upon us already, it does not seem five minutes since I was welcoming you and your children into Year Six back in September!

As you are no doubt aware it's all hands on deck this term. SATs week begins on the 14th May, that means there are only fourteen more school days until then (deep breath everybody). Of course we will be doing plenty of revision up until that date and we ask that you support your child by doing the same. We will be sending home ideas and work to help and encourage them, sometimes this may be specific to your child's needs so do not worry if it is "different" to their friend's home learning.

We then start focusing on the Year Six Production, alongside the other subjects that are taught throughout the term. Maths and English will be ongoing, although there will be more time in the week for being creative through music, drama and art as well as design and technology (see our topic web for more details).

During this term the children carry out a research project (more details to follow) which we feel stands them in good stead for the demands of secondary school and independent learning. They will have time in school to do this but we also expect them to work on this project as part of their home learning throughout the term. Prizes are given out for those one we feel have put in the most effort as well as those "overall winners".

This is always a really special term for Year Six and we expect them to still set good examples to the rest of the school whilst enjoying their final weeks at Furzeham. Transition time is set aside for them so they can feel prepared for Secondary School in September.

If you have any questions about this term then please do not hesitate to make an appointment to see me through the office.

We look forward to another fabulous and rewarding term. Thank you in advance for your support.
